REP. PETERS TO INTRODUCE LEGISLATION MANDATING TRANSPARENCY IN POLLUTION INCIDENTS

September 26, 2016

Press Release

Rep. Peters to spearhead Governor's call for increased transparency and reporting in pollution incidents.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. - In a press release earlier today, Governor Rick Scott called on the Department of Environmental Protection to create an emergency rule that will notify the public of contamination to our environment within 24 hours. Representative Kathleen Peters (FL-69) has announced her plans to take the lead in the Florida House as sponsor of legislation the Governor is proposing.

This comes in the wake of radioactive water flowing into Florida's aquifer caused by a sink hole at Mosaic's New Wales facility and the dumping of partially treated sewage into Pinellas waterways by the county and numerous cities.

"The public deserves notification when there are pollutants being introduced to our environment. Our water is one of our most precious resources; it is life. I remain committed to holding institutions accountable for their actions, be it public or private" said Representative Peters.

CBS Video: 4000 Murals over 32 Years in Philadelphia

Jane Golden, a Stanford-educated dynamo, founded the Philadelphia Mural Arts Program, the most prolific of its kind in the world . . . creating close to 4,000 murals since 1984. "What is that power that art has?" "I could just jump up and down! It's to uplift," said Golden. "It's to inspire. It's to challenge. It's to educate. It's to connect us."

Golden was hired by the city in 1984 to lead a short term anti-graffiti campaign. Her first project: re-painting Spring Garden Street Bridge. "People were stopping going, 'Oh my God, this is incredible! We can't believe this!'" And no one wrote on it! "That's what everyone expected, that the work we were doing would be completely vandalized."

The city's mural arts program grew from that.

Golden became an evangelist for the transformative power of art.

“While driving home from dinner this evening, when we turned down 30th Ave from 66th St. North what a surprise we saw! This evening was the Fall Equinox and as we drove west on 30th Ave, the sun was setting right between the 2 overpass columns like it did on the Spring Equinox, just 6 months ago . . . it makes perfect scientific sense!
